Stephen Blaisdell (C4) married Elizabeth Cheney, sister of Wealthy in 1841. Elizabeth out-lived her husband, and was proud of being a Great Grandmother. They are both buried in Richford. "After-life's fitful fever." During a long life, the mother of many children, she toiled through all her hardships, loneliness and poverty (after her husband's death), and endured it like one of the Saints. In her work, and her anxiety, she went to her room, fell down upon her bed, and passed away in a moment. What shall be the reward of such a motherhood?
